

Here's Kitchen Help-- And Plenty of It

Half the Work in Half the Time

EVERY woman owes a part of each day to the service of the nation, and the easiest way to get that extra time is by getting the Hoosier Cabinet and doing kitchen work in half the time.

The Hoosier is more than merely storage space—it is a labor-saving machine scientifically planned to save you miles of steps and hours of drudgery.

Its Partitionless Work-Space is the roomiest made. Don't forget that, because there is where falls 90 per cent of your work.

Before We Run Short

come in and see the new Hoosier "Beauty." Our allotment is limited and freight congestion may keep you from getting any more soon. By ordering now you can have your cabinet delivered for a small part payment—balance as convenient.

A son was born yesterday morning at the City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Seager of South Barre.

Mrs. Kenneth K. Kirk of Maple avenue is assisting in the office of the state treasurer at the capital for a few days.

R. D. Crandall post daughters will meet at their rooms to-morrow at 1 p. m. to attend the funeral of Comrade Larkin.

Mrs. J. F. Hinton has returned to St. Albans, after visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Mann, of Orange street.

Miss Velma Coffin of Washington street left this morning for Albany, N. Y., where she expects to enroll in a business college.

C. O. Hanson of St. Johnsbury, a former resident of Barre, is visiting his son, William Hanson, and other relatives in the city.

Mrs. Guy R. Varnum, Mrs. George E. Milne and Mrs. Jones were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Varnum of Jeffersonville.

N. D. Phelps of Park street drove his automobile to Newport today to attend the funeral of ex-Gov. George H. Prouty.

A number of Barre and Montpelier men accompanied him.

Notice: Members of Barre Woman's club please leave dues this week at Morse & Jackson's office, or with Miss Annie Barclay, collector. It is necessary to have all dues paid by Sept. 1.

Regular meeting of Col. J. B. Meade circle, No. 1, Ladies of the G. A. R., Friday afternoon at 2:30. Business of importance. Every member please attend.

Mrs. C. K. Cole and daughters, Priscilla and Cynthia, of Maple Grove returned to the city last evening from a stay of a few days in the White mountains.

Miss Mary Tomasi of North Main street has returned from Highgate Springs, where she was one of a party of Swanton high school teachers to remain in camp for a few days.

Harvey W. Varnum, a member of the corporation of Boutwell, Milne & Varnum of Barre, is being considered as a strong possibility for town representative from Cambridge, his home town.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Fish of South Burlington and Dr. and Mrs. John E. Fish and children of Canton, Mass., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goss yesterday. Mrs. J. E. Fish is the sister of Mrs. Goss.

Mrs. C. H. Kendrick and son, Ralph, who have been visiting in Barre, Montpelier and East Montpelier, have returned to their home in Enosburg Falls, accompanied by the former's father, A. V. Cooley.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kiser and son, Harold, of Schenectady, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cutts of Newport, N. H., arrived in the city yesterday, having been called here by the death of Charles S. Larkin of South Main street.

Miss Phyllis Nichols of Merchant street returned to the city last evening from Springfield, Mass., where she has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Butterick, formerly of Barre. She was accompanied by Miss Betty Butterick, who is visiting relatives here for a few weeks.

A deputy collector of internal revenue has been in town this week picking up the loose ends left over when the last collection was made. He found a number of clubs that had unintentionally failed to pay the federal assessments on dues and pool tables. Several citizens were interviewed. It is reported.

A sizeable crowd listened to the fourth concert of the Barre pipe and drum band in City park last evening. An interesting repertoire of pipe selections followed a ready response from the audience, and the Scottish music makers were heartily applauded. Piper W. B. Scott was heard in a solo, "My Native Highland Home."

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie (Glover) Buchanan, aged 58, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Emery of 38 Elm street Wednesday forenoon, will be held at the house Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Edgar Crossland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment is to be made in Hope cemetery.

N. H. Ricker, auditor of accounts for the Boston & Maine railroad, was in the city yesterday to look over the books of the M. & W. R. and the Barre & Chelsea railroads. While a decision on the proposed merger of all railroad lines in Barre and elsewhere is being awaited from the public service commission, the merger of accounts is to be brought about, and Mr. Ricker's visit in Barre and his examination of the books opens the way for a consolidation that is to take place in a few days.

Oscar Martinson of Perrin street went to Montpelier yesterday afternoon, being ordered to appear at the army recruiting station by the recruiting officer. Mr. Martinson, who was enrolled as a member of the junior class at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston during the past school year, enlisted in the coast artillery branch of the service shortly after the close of the school year and since that time has been awaiting a call to report for duty. He expects to leave the city next Tuesday for Boston, where he has been ordered to report, and from there he expects to be assigned to some training station.

George D. Bartlett of the 102d machine gun battalion, writing under date of Aug. 1 and 2, assures his parents that everything goes well with him, and strongly discredits the rumor that he had an arm shattered in the recent heavy fighting. He was surprised to learn that disastrous frosts visited his home territory in June and states that France is enjoying the most perfect weather in years. He speaks of talking with several Barre boys and adds that the story of the graduation at Spaulding high school interested him greatly. Private Bartlett refers to a busy time in July, but his letter indicates that the battalion is having something of a rest, although the men are drilling steadily in order to break the monotony.

Bob Hawkins, formerly a Pearl street restaurant and afterward a chef at the Elks establishment in Montpelier, has missed some wet goods which were deposited in his lodgings at a Burlington golf club and to the end that he may recover the value of the property, to wit, $200, he has brought an action of tort against Frank W. Elliott and two Burlington policemen, G. Arthur Laduke and Thomas E. Collins. Hawkins claims that the three men, sometime in April, broke open a trunk in his lodgings, and after taking golf balls, six hollow stem champagne glasses, victrola records and 12 green bud holders, stole, among other things, a quart of Marion Scotch whiskey, a quart of gin, two quarts of No. 8, a quart of Manhattan cocktails, cocktails, sherry brandy, apricot brandy, rum, three pints of champagne, six bottles of Bud, and one bottle each of French and Italian Vermouth. The case is returnable in September.

Our Early Showing of Misses' and Children's Coats made along conservative lines, which means that the styles will be good for two or three seasons.

Why Are We Advertising So Early?

We are talking these Coats early for the same reason that we have got them here to sell early. We realize that later in the season we cannot duplicate these qualities, neither can we guarantee the prices, even though the quality is not so good. In our best judgment, it is to your advantage to make your selection of these garments as early as possible, and we know you will save good money.

We have the Children's White Coats as well as the dark wools, in sizes from one to six years, and the Young Ladies' Coats in sizes from six to 12. The Junior Coats this year start at nine years and run to 17 years. This gives a line of sizes to please all, and we know you will be more than pleased with the line.

Ladies' Fall and Winter Suits

We are now showing a good line of the new Fall Suits. These are Suits in qualities that are as good as we have ever shown. The qualities are extremely good.

Do not expect to get a cheap quality Suit, for the quality surely is here. You will have to pay a little more for the same quality Suit, but they are built on conservative lines and while the price is a little more the style is bound to remain good longer. So you will surely get as much, if not more, real value from them than usual.

We want to show you our many new Fall Coats and Suits.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

When He Was Jeered After Trying to Speak at Petrograd.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—Swedish press reports transmitted to the state department to-day, say that a Colonel Maren, whose status in the Russian establishment at Petrograd is not known here, committed suicide by shooting when he was looked down during a speech at a meeting in Petrograd. Col. Maren was jeered upon stating that the Germans were in Krasnoj Selo and intended to march on Petrograd to remove the soviet government.

Reports from Finland say Trotsky is at Helsinki and Lenin, the bolshevik premier, is on a German ship bound for Revel. German press reports say Lenin still is at Moscow and Trotsky at the front.

GOT CHRISTMAS PACKAGE IN JULY.

But Soldier Writes Barre Woman of His Pleasure Nevertheless.

A Barre woman, who sought at Christmas time to do her little bit in the matter of providing comfort for our boys overseas, is in receipt of an unusually interesting letter from the soldier who received the parcel of Christmas cheer which she sent early last summer. To be sure, the package was not delivered until July, but the writer, who is Private K. W. Holton of the 26th U. S. Infantry, is none the less appreciative, as the tone of his letter indicates. It reads as follows:

"Doubtless you will be surprised to receive an acknowledgement of the receipt of your lovely Christmas Red Cross package seven months after Santa Claus and holly and mistletoe and such things have been packed away for another year. But, as a matter of fact, I just received your package to-day. The Red Cross bags couldn't all be given out at Christmas (I expect that they weren't over here at that time, anyway) so they were saved and are given out to the sick and wounded in the hospitals.

"I don't think I have had as much fun since I was a little kid exploring my Christmas stocking, as I had exploring the contents of your package, and I can never remember a time when my findings pleased me more. The salted nuts, chocolate bars and peppermint drops all disappeared in a hurry, and no 'ests' were ever more appreciated. The soap and wash cloths came in just right, too, as I have lost everything I ever owned through a mixture of bad luck and carelessness. The roll of jokes and the Vermont war poems are being thoroughly enjoyed, too, although the other boys have them scattered all over the ward and I haven't had a chance to read all of them yet.

"Had a slight argument with a square head sniper and just as I brought it to a successful conclusion a boche machine gun took a hand. That's why I'm in the hospital and the reason I was lucky enough to get your Christmas parcel—in July. I came off with three machine gun bullets through my left hand.

"I do not happen to hail from Vermont or the cultured East or the aristocratic South, but am only one of those uncouth westerners you read about in Sunday supplements and dime novels. Only I never carried 'two guns,' or had long whiskers, or wore a red bandana around my neck, and I can't drink my whiskey 'straight,' or roll a cigarette with my left hand (especially now). Isn't that a disappointing confession from one who hails from the land made famous by Bill Hart, and Doug Fairbanks and Jesse James? Perhaps, though, you can excuse such lamentable shortcomings if I confess that I was born in Kentucky, and that the peaceful 'blue grass' blood can't become very wild, even in the state of Washington, where I have spent nearly all my life.

"Well, I do not imagine that you would care for an account of my life history, especially since I have confessed it to be commonplace and uninteresting. As you probably know, the only thing a man can really talk about is himself, so under the circumstances I'll have to bring this to an end. To be serious—I really cannot tell you how much I appreciated the bag you sent me. Everything was in excellent condition, and was enjoyed just as much, if not more, than if it had been received when it was supposed to have been. Please accept my heartiest thanks."

Poor Legacy.
